21st century learners often find that learning is more effective when it is social. While many elements of this course are individual, you will also work with a study group. These study groups will be formed on the first day of class. Each member of the study group will be assigned a number. Part of each class period’s assignment is a study group contribution. The study group contribution is a written response to the prompt or question listed in the daily assignment. There are three prompts, and those prompts correspond with each member of the study group. If, for example, you are group member number 3, you will create your study group contribution as a response to study group contribution prompt number 3.
