

You decide to leave the tour bus and wander off on your own. You are excited to find _____ but _____

It is the end of a long day of walking around. You decide to go to a nearby pub and begin talking to _____. After about an hour . . .

You go down to the lobby of your hotel and discover that your mother has arrived unexpectedly. You . . .

You go down to the lobby of your hotel and discover that your father has arrived unexpectedly. You . . .

You are at a hostel and don't speak the language but, while you are trying to get a bed, you meet up with . . .

You are lost deep in the woods of a national reserve and . . .

The one place you wanted to see on this trip is _____. As you approach . . .

You find yourself having a falling out or breaking up with your companion on a romantic beach in _____. You . . .

You find some children in a park near the city center. A group of the children approach you . . .

You begin a conversation with an older resident while sitting on a park bench on a very warm Sunday afternoon. She begins to tell you . . .

You are with a group that has decided to engage in a physically demanding or risky activity . . .

You observe other Americans taunting some local _____