

Student's blog

Sunday, March 20, 2016

In this weeks blog I want to talk about proverty. In The book Frankenstein I feel like proverty shaped their lives into who they became later in life. Proverty is a state of deprivation, or lack of the usual or socially acceptable amount of money or material possessions. Poverty affects over three billion people that live on less then $ 2.50 a day. I grew up in a church and we help the homeless people in our community as much as we could, But there is only so much we can do. Now days people can't afford a pillow to lay their head, let alone health care. People who live in proverty are set up to fail. They are limited on food, clothes and living conditions, all which take a toll on your health. One billion children worldwide are living in proverty, and childern die everyday because of it. Diseases Take over 2 million childern a year. Although Frankenstein doesnt live in proverty it still effects his life. It effects his life because proverty is where the monster learns about life and most importantly learns about love, which drives him crazy. The monster wanted love and victor wouldn't give him that so he destroys victors whole life. Every person victor loved dies. As a reader I'm left guessing what would have happened if victor did create the monster a mate.

Posted by at 4:50 PM

Enter your comment . . .

Comment as:

Sign out

Publish

Preview

Notify me

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments \(Atom\)

About Me

G+ Follow 0

View my complete profile

Blog Archive

▼ 2016 (8)

▶ April (2)

▼ March (2)

The book Frankenstein was very interesting to read...

In this weeks blog I want to talk about proverty. ...

▶ February (3)

▶ January (1)

